PROJECT OBJECTIVES

To strengthen the capacity of the Government of Nepal and humanitarian stakeholders to implement FbA and SRSP by streamlining the use of innovative approaches in climate and forecasting in Province 5 and Sudhur Paschim:

1. Agreeing on approaches, tools and decisions towards the implementation of FbA and SRSP in a joint learning process and capacity building
2. Identifying, developing and testing at the local level innovations in FbA and design tweaks of the SP system to become anticipatory and shock responsive
3. Collection and documentation of the process for building and implementing scalable FbA and SRSP approaches, bringing evidence from the field based on simulations and studies

EXPECTED RESULTS

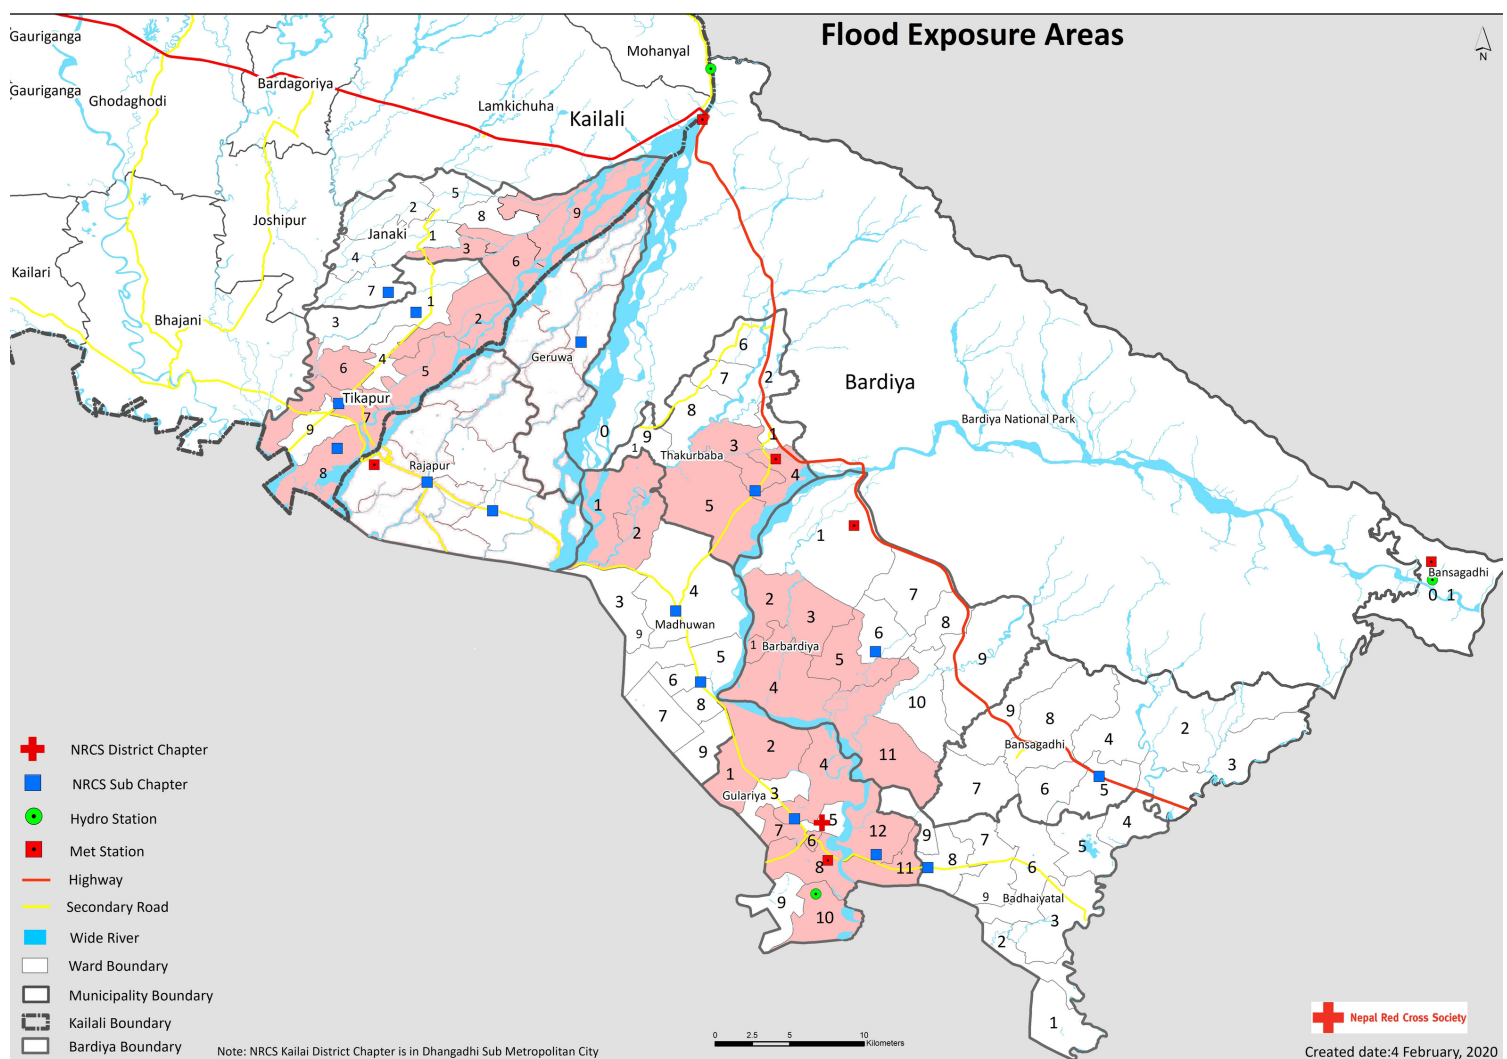

Result 1: A multi-hazard FbA mechanism is jointly developed and tested at the local level, with a scalability capacity approach

Result 2: Replicable options for the SSA-system, to be used as a shock-response mechanism enabling its continuous delivery in the face of disasters, and in anticipation, are developed and tested in 5 municipalities

Result 3: Consolidated learnings and evidence collected at the local level contribute to the formulation of the national roadmap on SRSP in Nepal
